TOWN REPORTS

Town reports are distributed about a week previous to the annual town meeting, and an effort will be made to have every citizen receive a copy. There will be no extra ones for distribution on town meeting day and those who desire one to use at town meeting should bring their copy with them.

REPORT OF FIREWARDS

During the year the Fire Department has responded to two alarms, one at the home of Joseph Bernier on April 11th and the other on December 18th at the home of Henry Castonguay. Both were extinguished with little damage.

We believe the town should purchase a few hundred feet of hose and some extinguishers to equip a hose reel for use of the residents in the east part of the village.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF CEMETERY TRUSTEES

During the past year the usual labor and expense has been incurred in keeping our cemetery in proper shape.

The grass has been cut, the leaves removed and other work necessary to keep the cemetery in satisfactory condition has been done.

Many of the sunken graves, under perpetual care, have been filled in, and bouquets placed on all Perpetual Care lots on Memorial Day.

A new gate 15 feet in width, 3 feet wider than the old gate, has been placed at the Main entrance which we are sure will be a great improvement.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD

To the Citizens of Greenville:

We herewith submit the following report:

In May the School Boards of the Supervisory District met at the school house. Mr. Cummings of Lyndeboro was elected as Chairman; Mrs. Sadie Holt of Temple, Secretary; and Mr. A. B. Eaton of Mason, Treasurer. Mr. Vernon S. Ames was re-elected as Superintendent.

On Memorial Day the children marched and assisted in the decoration of the soldiers' graves. An interesting program was presented in the Town Hall under the direction of the teachers. Walter Boynton gave Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

Graduating exercises were held in the grammar room June twenty-fourth. Lionel Bernier, Albert Bosselait, Stella May Boynton, Walter Frank Boynton, Laurie Levi Gedenberg, Stanley Perry Maynard, Edna Claire Roots and Charles William Roots were awarded diplomas by Superintendent Ames. These exercises were attended by a large number of relatives and friends and a most excellent program enjoyed.

The schools opened September fifth with only one change in the teaching force. Miss Blanche Grant filled the vacancy in the intermediate room. Our present corps of teachers is doing excellent work and all are most satisfactory in every way. Miss Blanche Bowden, the music supervisor has given generously of her time and talent both in our schools and in the community. The manual training has progressed satisfactorily under the direction of Mr. Robbins. In the future the articles made are to be varnished and stained. We feel that this will be an incentive to the boys' work and will add to the attractiveness of the models.

In co-operation with the Red Cross, cocoa has been served to the pupils remaining at noon during the winter term.

We have been advised to increase the amount of insurance on the school building. For many years we have carried only $12,000. It has been necessary to appropriate a much larger amount for High School tuitions as it is estimated that many more pupils will attend High School this fall.

Since the beginning of the New Year we are trying the eight week system. This will give more whole days attendance as the vacations will include the holidays.

BUDGET FOR 1928-1929

Estimated expenditures for the school year from July 1, 1928, to June 30, 1929, and recommendation of sums to be assessed for the support of schools and payment of statutory obligations.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board and Citizens of Greenville:

I submit my fifth annual report as Superintendent of Schools:

TEACHERS AND PUPILS

There has been but one change in the teaching staff since last year. Miss Blanche Grant, the teacher in the Intermediate room, had her training and several years' experience in Nova Scotia and taught last year in New Ipswich. The work of all the teachers is unusually satisfactory and we should be fortunate if we could retain their services over a period of years.

The statistical report following shows a slight decrease last year over the preceding year in both total enrollment and average membership. The per cent of attendance however was three per cent higher and well above the state average. Tardiness showed an increase last year to a point where it was more than three times the state average. Special effort has been made to reduce tardiness this year and the reports for the first sixteen weeks show that the number has been cut in half. That is a good beginning but it needs to be reduced much more. As it now stands, Greenville has an average of .68 tardinesses per pupil for the first sixteen weeks. The corresponding record for Wilton is .48; for Lyndeboro .30; for New Ipswich .30; for Mason .22 and Temple .20.

SUPERVISION

The statistical report shows 69 supervisory visits last year as compared with 63 the previous year. The testing program described in last year's report was followed in about the same manner through the school year 1926-'27. This year two additional types of testing are being used, one giving particular attention to oral reading in the first three grades and to silent reading in grades three to six. The other new feature is the use of the Standard Achievement Tests covering three phases of silent reading, both the computation and the problem sides of arithmetic, language, spelling, and general information in science and history. Some of the results of this group of tests were published in the school paper "Souhegan Spirit" last month, and in the list of pupils there given whose composite scores exceeded the standards of the second grade above their own grade will be found the name of only one Greenville pupil where it should be three or four considering the number of pupils in Greenville as compared with the other towns. This group of tests will be repeated near the close of the year and will furnish a more accurate measure of progress through the year than any other data except the teacher's own daily records; consequently the results will be given considerable weight in deciding promotions at the close of the year. Progress in reading in the first three grades will be considered particularly in determining promotions as it has been demonstrated that most of the failures in the higher grades are due to deficiencies in reading which should have been more thoroughly mastered in the primary grades.

SILENT READING

The most important subject taught in school through the entire period of school attendance is Reading. Reading is the key that unlocks for the pupil the door to every other subject taught, as well as the doors to many of the activities and experiences of adult life. The aim of the school is to train all pupils to read effectively and to establish strong motives for and permanent interests in reading.

While mastery of the mechanics of reading is the chief aim of the teaching in the first three grades and instruction for this purpose is necessarily very largely oral, by far the larger part of a child's later reading and practically all of an adult's reading is done silently. Not enough has been known about the best methods of teaching the economical and effective habits and skills necessary in silent reading, and consequently not enough emphasis has been given to the teaching of silent reading, either in the first three grades or in the higher grades where definite instruction is also needed.

Following a general discussion of reading methods at a teachers' meeting last October a set of textbooks especially prepared for teaching silent reading was placed in the hands of all the teachers of grades four, five, and six. Since then systematic work has been going forward, and at the end of the fall term brief reports from the teachers showed that some progress had been made and that at least the consciousness of the need of such instruction was well established in the minds of the teachers and pupils. In their answers to the question as to what real gains could be seen in their classes, the following are typical phrases: more interest, better understanding, more use of the dictionary, greater independence, more thoughtful reading, more careful observation, clearer thinking, more concentration, interest in the meaning of unfamiliar words, greater speed and accuracy, overcoming the habit of moving the lips, and a desire to read more.

CHARACTER EDUCATION

Mention was made in my last report of a special program of Character Education. This program is now in use in all the schools and a special teachers' meeting was held early in October to discuss methods in character training. Space will not permit an adequate outline of this program but I will mention some of the salient points.

The highest type of conduct, both theoretically and according to our American ideals, is free conduct. But freedom is not license or irresponsibility. The teaching of conduct must be free and not a slavish following of outlines. The whole content of the school curriculum must be seen and presented as moral in essence and purpose. The teacher must know the principles of conduct and practice them in daily life or there will be no effective building of character. She must herself be all she expects her pupils to be. She must know the individual child and his home and community environment and must have a sympathetic understanding of the behavior of children. She must also have quickened her personal and social ideals, her moral vision, and sense of social justice.

The methods used must be varied in their appeal and in their application. She must constantly keep in mind that it is more important to teach boys and girls than it is to teach subjects.

With younger children the most useful medium for teaching character is the story. G. Stanley Hall says, "Of all the things that the teacher should know how to do the most important, without exception, is to tell a story." The child lives the experiences of the stories he hears, suffers with the evil doer and is rewarded with the virtuous, and his character is lastingly affected because he is strongly moved. The stories selected should contain a lesson, and they should be strong and true to life. Much harm may be done through stories with low ideals and also through stories of unusually good children.

For the young child moral training is largely social adaptation. He must learn to work harmoniously in a group as either leader or follower. He must not be judged by the adult standard of right and wrong for he has to be taught the adult code of social and moral behavior just as he has to be taught other facts and his standards must be built up slowly.

His failure to distinguish between truth and imagination or to appreciate the importance of ownership results from ignorance, not from badness. With older children a more systematic teaching of the cardinal virtues may be attempted, not by lecturing and preaching but by story telling, illustration and actual practice on the part of the pupil. Plato centuries ago named the four cardinal virtues upon which is based our outline today:

1. Wisdom, which embraces the topics clear thinking, open-mindedness, reverence, appreciation and health.
2. Self-control, which we subdivide into obedience, reliability (honesty, punctuality, orderliness), and industry, (thrift, initiative, ambition, perseverance).
3. Courage, physical and moral courage, duty.
4. Justice, including courtesy (kindness, co-operation, fair play, sympathy), service, loyalty and patriotism.

In our high schools to a greater extent than in the elementary schools, intellectual attainment has been regarded as the chief aim. The success or failure of a pupil and the school has been judged by scholastic standing alone. This renewed emphasis on character training is an attempt to put in practice the conviction that all instruction has for its chief aim Character Formation.

MEDICAL INSPECTION

The regular Medical Inspection was made by Dr. Pease in October with the following results:

	Public	Parochial
Number of children examined	59	208
Malnutrition	0	2
Defective Vision	1	4
Enlarged Glands	1	3
Cardiac Disease	0	1
Enlarged Tonsils	10	17
Pediculosis	0	15

Defective Teeth	24	69
Unvaccinated	1	6
Defects remedied since previous examination	10	10

In closing I wish to express once more my hearty appreciation of the spirit of loyalty and co-operation which has been shown during the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

VERNON S. AMES
