REPORT OF FIREWARDS

The fire company responded to eight signal alarms during the past year and a number of chimney fires were extinguished on still alarm calls. The most serious fire was at the home of Leon Russell on January 16, where the damage to the interior of the building and furniture amounted to several thousand dollars.

As this report goes to the printer, the Gamewell Company is installing new equipment at the fire station which we believe will give much improvement in the service of the fire alarm system. This improvement is overdue, but the scarcity of materials has delayed the installation several months.

REPORT OF SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT

To the School Board and Citizens of Greenville:

I respectfully submit my twenty-third annual report as Superintendent of Schools.

A year ago I called your attention to the increasing costs of public schools, and made the statements that money expended for sound education is not to be regarded as a burdensome cost but as a productive investment; that the greatest waste we can make is to spend too little on education; and that every community should plan its budget with a view to making its schools as effective as possible.

Today the greatest hindrance to effective schools is the lack of a sufficient number of well qualified teachers. Contrary to the supposition that the ending of the war and the cessation of war industries would release a great many teachers to resume their profession, it has resulted, rather, in the case of women teachers, in a demand to be released from teaching by many whose husbands are discharged from the service. It is true that more men teachers are available as a result of the demobilization, but the great majority of teachers are women.

280,000 teachers in the United States left the profession during the war because they could not live on the salaries they were receiving. Some 80,000 emergency teachers with inferior qualifications have come in; thousands of positions have been abolished; class rooms have been crowded; and there are still around 10,000 unfilled teaching positions. The number of people training to become teachers dropped 60 per cent during the war period. The schools of the Nation are confronted with a most critical situation which can only be remedied by making the teaching profession more attractive to young people, and that means, primarily, higher salaries.

According to the latest compilation of annual average salaries by states, twenty-two of the forty-eight states were paying higher average salaries than New Hampshire. In other words country-wide average salaries are about the same as New Hampshire is paying. Our near neighbors to the South are paying from one-half to two-thirds as much again in salaries, and the average salary in New York State is nearly double that in New Hampshire. It is only natural that we should lose many of our best teachers.

A tabulation of salaries paid to Elementary teachers in New Hampshire this year shows that:

In the sixty-three small towns with less than 600 population the lowest salary paid is $1000, but only sixteen towns are paying less than $1200; eleven towns are paying from $1400 to $1500; the five towns of this Supervisory Union that fall in this population group (Francestown, Greenfield, Lyndeborough, Mason and Temple) are paying from $1200 to $1350.

The fifty-two towns in the population range from 600 to 1000 including New Ipswich, are paying from $1000 to $1850.

The twenty-nine towns with populations from 1000 to 1500, including Greenville, are paying from $1100 to $1900.

The twenty-six towns including Wilton in the population range from 1500 to 2500 are paying from $1000 to $2200 per year for elementary teachers.

Many of the smaller towns find it difficult to raise the money to pay higher salaries, but until the State Legislature appropriates more money for State Aid than it has done in the past there seems to be no other way to secure well qualified teachers, or indeed any teacher at all for some positions. Most teachers will take a position that involves a single grade or at most two grades rather than several grades, which makes it doubly hard to secure teachers for rural schools.

In view of these facts it seems advisable to increase the budget allowance for teachers' salaries to $4500. This increase, together with the slight increase in cost of text books and supplies, is nearly offset by the decrease in the cost of transportation and in the estimate for minor repairs. Salaries of district officers is low this year because the School Board members volunteered to perform their duties without pay, but $200 is recommended for that item next year. This is offset by a reduction of $200 in the amount estimated for High School tuition. Cost of insurance next year will be $150 and to this is added an item of fixed charges amounting to $25.00 to cover teacher retirement assessments, as provided by act of the Legislature at its 1945 session.

It is doubtful if there will be any cash balance at the close of the current year and the only known income for next year is the dog tax, estimated at $100.

The assessment required is $12,434.00, just $21.00 more than last year.

At a special school district meeting last summer it was voted to pay for the new furnace out of the current funds and raise the amount at the annual meeting in March; consequently, there is a special article in the Warrant to raise $1,486.00 for that purpose.

The heating plant at the school needs to be modernized throughout with the exception, of course, of the new furnace. There is considerable heat loss through the attic and through the windows, which could be reduced materially by insulating the attic floor and stair wells and providing storm windows. A special article in the Warrant will enable the voters to decide whether to proceed with the improvements.

The annual medical inspection was made by Dr. Karr and Mrs. Gilbert but Mrs. Gilbert's long confinement following an accident has prevented her from compiling the usual report.

Respectfully submitted,

VERNON S. AMES

Superintendent of Schools.
